27	Chāchikdeo II ...	Mentioned in an inscription in a temple at Jaisalmer dated 1448 as ruling in that year.
28	Devī Dās (or Devī Karan).	Mentioned in an inscription at Jaisalmer as ruling in 1479.

List of chiefs of Jaisalmer (continued).

No.	Name.	REMARKS.
29	Jet Singh II ...	Mentioned in an inscription at Jaisalmer as occupying the gaddi in 1524 and 1526.
30	Karan Singh II ...
31	Lunkaran ...	Mentioned in the Tabakāt-i-akbarī as having opposed Humāyūn in his march across the desert in 1541.
32	Māldeo ...	A son of Lunkaran; said to have been alive in 1555.
33	Har Rāj ...	Mentioned in the Beg-lār-nāmah as receiving a deputation from Sind headed by Khān-i-Zamān.
34	Bhīm ...	A son of Har Rāj, mentioned in an inscription at Jaisalmer as the ruler in 1616. He was a mansabdār of 500 according to the Ain-i-Akbarī and the father-in-law of Jahāngīr according to the emperor himself (Tuzak-i-Jahāngīrī); died in 1624.
35	Kalyān Dās ...	Was appointed governor of Orissa in 1610 according to the Ain-i-Akbarī . Jahāngīr writes that he made him a commander of 2,000 in 1616, and called him to court and invested him as Rāwal in 1626.
36	Manohar Dās ...
37	Rāmchandra ...
38	Sabal Singh ...	Was not the legitimate heir to the gaddi , but received Jaisalmer from Shāh Jahān as a reward for services rendered at Peshāwar; ruled from 1651 to 1661.
39	Amar Singh ...	Ruled from 1661 to 1702.
40	Jaswant Singh ..	Dispossessed of some of his lands by the Rāthors and by Dāud Khān.

List of chiefs of Jaisalmer (concluded).

No.	Name.	REMARKS.
41	Budh Singh ...
42	Tej Singh ...
43	Akhai Singh ...	Ruled from 1722 to 1762; established a mint at his capital in 1756; lost more land to Bahāwal Khān, son of Dāud Khān and founder of Bahāwalpur.
44	Mulrāj II ...	Ruled from 1762 to 1820; a puppet in the hands of his minister, the infamous Sālim Singh; concluded treaty with the British in December 1818.
45	Gaj Singh ...	The grandson of Mulrāj, ruled from 1820 to 1846 and assisted Government with camels in the first Afghān war.
46	Ranjit Singh ...	Nephew of Gaj Singh, whom he succeeded by adoption; died June 1864.
47	Bairi Sāl ...	Younger brother of Ranjit Singh, whom he succeeded by adoption; installed October 1865 and died March 1891.
48	Sālivāhan II ...	Adopted by the widows of Bairi Sāl; was born in June 1887, educated at the Mayo College, and is the present Mahārāwal.

Since this table was compiled I have received Mr. Bhandarkar's Report of a second tour in search of Sanskrit manuscripts made in Rājputāna and Central India in 1904-05 and 1905-06 (Bombay, 1907). According to inscriptions found by him in certain temples at Jaisalmer, Mulrāj I (No. 21) was succeeded by his brother, Ratan Singh, and they together "righteously protected the earth as did Lakshman and Rāma of old." Mulrāj had a son called Deorāj, the father of Kehar II (No. 24); one inscription mentions him as the chief of the State just after Gharsi (or Ghata Singh), but the popular idea is that he died of fever during the siege of Jaisalmer at the end of the thirteenth century.

6	Jalhan ...
7	Chhada ...
8	Thida ...
9	Salkha ...
10	Viramdeo ...
11	Chonda ...	Took Mandor from the Parihārs about 1381, and made it his capital; he died in 1408 or 1409.
12	Kanha ...	These two are not mentioned in all the chronicles. Kanha is said to have ruled for five, and Satta for four years.
13	Satta ...
14	Ran Mal ...	Assassinated in 1444 while attempting to usurp the throne of the infant Rānā Kūmbha of Mewār. Some say he immediately succeeded his father Chonda.
15	Jodha ...	Ruled from 1444 to 1488; founded Jodhpur city in 1459, and transferred thither the seat of government.

List of chiefs of Jodhpur (continued).

No.	Name.	Date, remarks, etc.
16	Sātal	Ruled 1488—91 ; was killed in a battle with the Sūbahdār of Ajmer.
17	Sūja or Sūraj Mal ...	Ruled 1491—1516 ; met his death in a fight with the Pathāns at the Pipār fair.
18	Ganga	Ruled 1516—32 ; sent his quotas to fight under Rānā Sangrām Singh of Mewār against Bābar in 1527.
19	Māldeo	Ruled from 1532 to 1562 or, as others say, till 1568—69 ; fought with Sher Shāh (1543—44), and subsequently with Akbar. He was by far the most potent Hindu prince of his time.
20	Chandra Sen ...
21	Udai Singh ...	Ruled 1581—95 ; was the first to hold the title of Rājā (his predecessors were styled Raos), and was nicknamed by the Musalmāns the Motā (or-stout) Rājā.
22	Sūr Singh ...	Ruled 1595—1620 ; served with great distinction under the princes Murād and Dāniyāl in Gujarāt and the Deccan.
23	Gaj Singh ...	Ruled 1620—38 ; served with even greater distinction than his father, Sūr Singh, and was rewarded with the viceroyalty of the Deccan, besides land and titles.
24	Jaswant Singh I ...	Ruled 1638—78 ; was the first to hold the title of Mahārājā. He was the bitter enemy of Aurangzeb, whom he served as viceroy in Gujarāt, Ajmer, the Deccan, and Kābul ; he died at Jamrūd.

List of chiefs of Jodhpur (concluded.)

No.	Name.	Date, remarks, etc.
25	Ajit Singh ...	The posthumous son of Jaswant Singh ; ruled 1679—1724. Aurangzeb overran his country, but, on the emperor's death, he recovered all his possessions, including, for a time, Ajmer. He was murdered by his son Bakht Singh.
26	Abhai Singh ...	Ruled 1724—50 ; was viceroy of Gujarāt and Ajmer, and, in the former capacity, suppressed the rebellion of Sarbuland Khān and captured Ahmadābād.

At a darbār the Champāwats and Kūmpāwats sit to the right, and the Jodhas, Mertias and Udāwats to the left of the Mahārājā. Among the first three Thākurs in the above list, the earliest arrival takes precedence (on the right), and the same is the case with the next five (on the left). The last four Thākurs occupy the first seat (on the right or left, as the case may be) only when none senior to them in their group attends the assemblage.

The figures for 1891-92 and 1901-02 are not quite complete for the following reasons. Included among the vernacular schools are five in Mallāni in 1891-92 and four in 1901-02, but nothing is known regarding the number on the rolls of, or the daily average attendance at, any of these institutions in either of the above years. Similarly, the special schools were the Sanskrit school and the Powlett noble's school in 1891-92, and the Sanskrit school and the Elgin Rājput school in 1901-02, but information as to attendance, etc., is available only for the Sanskrit school. The Elgin school was amalgamated with the Darbār high school in 1903-04, leaving only one special institution (the Sanskrit school) in 1904-05, but the nobles' school was re-established in the following year. The surveying class was held at the College, and hence has not been treated as a separate school; it was abolished in 1904

DETAILS.	1881.	1891.	1901.	REMARKS.
Number of towns	1	1	5	The census of 1901 was the first complete one ever taken in the State. In 1881 the Girāsins of the Bhākar (a rugged tract in the south-east) were not counted at all, while in 1891 their number was roughly estimated at 2,860. Again at neither of the earlier enumerations was any attempt made to distinguish between Hindus and Animists.

Nāndia ...	Rāj Sāhib ...	Sheo Singhot	4,500	All belong to the Deora sept of the Chauhān clan. The first four occupy the front seats in darbār and receive the double tāzim , the Mahārāo rising both on their arrival and departure. The next four are styled Sarāyats and sit on the right and left of the chief; they, together with Nibaj, also receive the double tāzim . In the absence of the Thākur of Pādiv, his place in darbār is taken by Nibaj; the two never attend together. Rohuā and Bhatāna, when they come with the Thākur of Nibaj, are honoured with the double tāzim ; otherwise, like Māndwāra and Dabāni, they receive the single tāzim only.

Bhādra	Hindī primary	53	47	All these schools are maintained by the Darbār at an annual cost of about Rs. 31,000. There are in addition numerous institutions of the indigenous type, such as pāth-shālas , kept up by private individuals or communities, but they are not under departmental control. A banika school, it should be explained, is one in which instruction is given in mental arithmetic and the general system of mercantile business and accounts as conducted in Mār-wāri characters. It will be seen that more than half of the boys were borne on the rolls of these banika schools. The girls' school at the capital is the only one of the kind in the State.
